

Dear [Supervisor's Name],

I'm writing to bring to your attention a solution that could significantly enhance communication accessibility at our workplace – Convo Now (convorelay.com/convonow).

As a member of our diverse team, I have occasionally encountered situations where immediate sign language interpretation was needed for effective communication. In such instances, waiting for scheduled services proves to be counterproductive, hindering the timely exchange of vital information. This is where Convo Now can play a crucial role in bridging the gap.

Convo Now offers on-the-go access to sign language interpreters, providing an instant solution to communication barriers. I believe implementing this service would not only benefit me but also contribute to the overall efficiency and inclusivity of our workplace. Here are a few points to consider:

Timely Communication: Convo Now allows for immediate access to sign language interpreters for brief to long conversations, ensuring swift and efficient communication, especially in urgent situations.

Enhanced Productivity: Research indicates that providing accommodations, such as Convo Now, can lead to increased motivation and productivity among disabled employees. This could positively impact our team's overall performance.

Positive Brand Image: Inclusivity is becoming a key factor for consumers when choosing products or services. By adopting Convo Now, our company can demonstrate a commitment to diversity and accessibility, potentially enhancing our brand image.

Cost-Effective: While there is a monetary commitment, the return on investment is considerable and there is no minimum cost beyond one minute. The benefits in terms of improved communication, productivity, and brand perception outweigh the costs. Plus, there are tax incentives available, such as the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Disabled Access Credit, and Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC). Convo recommends consulting with tax experts to determine how each can be used, depending on the nature of the business.

I'm eager about Convo Now's potential impact on our workplace, aligning with our commitment to inclusivity, and I welcome the opportunity to discuss this further with you. Your support in considering this proposal is appreciated, and I'm optimistic about the positive changes it could bring to our team.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
